Cathryn Galvin

Cathryn has dedicated the past 11 years to the school sector after transitioning from the health care industry. With a focus on office administration, she has gained extensive experience across various areas of the school community.

Recognising the pivotal role of a thriving school community in fostering healthy families and communities at large, Cathryn finds immense joy in her administrative roles within schools. Her work serves as a vital support system for teachers, managers, students, and families alike.

Joining Somerset Education in 2021 marked an exciting continuation of Cathryn's passion for supporting educational environments. This transition allows her to extend her impact beyond the confines of a single school and contribute to the broader educational community. Collaborating with John and the team, enables Cathryn to leverage her skills in school administration to positively impact schools on a larger scale. Her diverse experiences equip her to address the unique needs of various stakeholders, including teachers, managers, students, and families.

Cathryn takes pride in being part of a company deeply committed to school financial viability and sustainability, striving to make a meaningful contribution to the overall success of schools.

One of Cathryn's career highlights includes fulfilling a five-year tenure at an International School in The Netherlands, where she had the privilege of working with a diverse student body representing 80 different nationalities.
